Maksymec shows Elk Point champ

Two first year members of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club showed the Club's Grand and Reserve Champion Steers at last Saturday's Achievement Day in the Elk Point Agricultural Society Show Barn. Clinton Maksymec led his 1230 pound Angus - Limousin cross to victory for the Elk Point Co-op Grand Champion trophy, while Jason Pankiw showed a 1310 pound Limousin cross to take the Elk Point Butchers and Packers trophy for Reserve Champion.

A total of thirteen steers were judged by Bill Creech of Lloydminster in the Conformation Class.

Grooming, Showmanship and Judging classes started off the afternoon, with Creech giving the members judging pointers, and then scrutinizing their grooming and showing techniques. In the Grooming competition, Richard Piotrowski was the Senior winner, for the Elk Point Insurance trophy, with Sheldon Kinjerski placing second, while Clinton Maksymec won the Junior division trophy from Elk Point Reddi Mart, with Tim Havener placing second.

The Clayton Orr Memorial halters for Showmanship went to Richard Piotrowski, in the Senior division, and Robyn Danyluk in the Junior group. Becky Allan and David Yuschyshyn were the runners-up.

Richard Piotrowski was again the winner in the Senior Judging, for the Lloydminster Heavy Crude trophy, with Sheldon Kinjerski placing second, while David Naber edged out his sister Claudia for the Phil's Hardware trophy in the Junior Judging.

Robyn Danyluk made a clean sweep in the Heifer Show. Her yearling Charolais took home the Grand Champion Yearling trophy donated by Terry Wozniak Turbo, and went on to become the Reserve Supreme Female for the Banana Hill Farms trophy. The Reserve Champion Yearling in the six animal competition was shown by Clayton Maksymec, who accepted the Lakeland Tire trophy for his Simmental entry.

Robyn Danyluk's three year old cow with April calf at foot was the Grand Champion in the Cow / Calf Class, for another trophy from Banana Hill. This gleaming white pair went on to win the Supreme Female class, for a trophy from Lazy H Simmentals. Tim Havener showed his two year old Simmental cow and her January calf for the Reserve Champion trophy, donated by Dave's Pizza, in the Cow / Calf Class.

Elk Point Grand Champion Steer

Clayton Maksymec capped his first year as a member of Elk Point 4-H Multi Club off in the best way possible, by showing the Grand Champion Steer (shown above) and the Reserve Champion Yearling Heifer. He accepts the Elk Point Co-op trophy from Overall Club Leader Albert Naber and congratulations from judge Bill Creech on a very successful Achievement Day.

Heinsburg Champion

Chamber gets action - - Fort direction signs are up!

Signs indicating the way to Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre are now up, following intense discussion at last Wednesday's meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce.

Signs had been delivered to the Centre some time ago, but no one was sure whose jurisdiction it was to install them. After several phone calls following the meeting, temporary signage was installed immediately, with the more permanent version going up the next day. This should put an end to difficulties in finding the site.

President Millie Orr displayed the Bicentennial Souvenir Handbooks, which will be distributed to the advertisers and at the Tourist Information Booth. The Bicentennial $3 coins are also available at the Information Booth, as well as at the Bicentennial Headquarters.

Stephen Dills of the Vermilion Standard was at the meeting, and said that his new Elk Point section is a "logical extension" of his market, due to the changing trading patterns and "a lot of interaction between our communities."

The Peter Fidler statue will be surrounded by greenery soon, if marauding gophers can be kept at bay. In addition to the tree seedlings planted by the Elk Point 4-H Club, a number of perennials have been planted, with more donated by President Orr to be moved there in the near future.

The membership campaign is winding down, with 42 paid up members to date. Several new members have come forth since letters inviting them to join were sent out, making this a worthwhile endeavor.

Plans for the Canada Day Pancake Breakfast are well underway, but it was decided it will be necessary to put out a donation box to help defray the costs. Even with the donated materials received last year, it cost well over$1.50 per plate to serve the large crowd who attended.

Thompson wins Heinsburg 4-H

A big buckskin steer named Taurus was selected as the Heinsburg 4-H Beef Club's Grand Champion, at last Monday's Achievement Day at the Whitney Lake Rodeo Grounds. Proud owner Lily Thomson accepted the Sharkey's Bus Service trophy from Lori Best, before going on to win the Senior Grooming title, along with second place ribbons in Senior Showmanship and Senior Judging. The Senior Grooming trophy was sponsored by Terry Wozniak Turbo Bulk Station.

Heinsburg's Reserve Champion is a Limousin steer owned by David Skolarchuk, whose brother Darren accepted the Heinsburg Community Club trophy from Charley Thomson. David was unfortunately unable to take part in the show due to being hospitalized in Vermilion. Fellow 4-H members and friends signed a get-well card to send along with his trophy.

The Riverview Seniors trophy for Junior Grooming, the Junior Showmanship trophy donated by Capistrano Ranch and the Junior Judging trophy donated by Lanni Bristow all went to Daleen Gunderson.

Senior Showmanship was won by Jamie Bristow, who received the Frog Lake Cattle Association trophy. She also placed second in Senior Grooming.

Darren Skolarchuk won the Senior Judging title, with a trophy by Martin Goodwill Club.

Judge for the evening was Clayton Elliott, while Walter Skolarchuk was the Master of Ceremonies. Alma Twarog was the winner of the Weight Guessing Contest, coming very close to the exact weight of the steer.

Heritage Lodge Seniors Celebrate

Residents of Heritage Lodge gathered to cut a large Seniors Week cake at their annual Open House on Sunday. They were joined by a large contingent of relatives and friends for an afternoon of worship and entertainment, ending with a most enjoyable barbecue supper.

Singing For Seniors

A large contingent of Elk Point and District Choral Society entertained the residents of Heritage Lodge and their guests at the annual celebration of Seniors Week on Sunday. Rev. Sam Donaldson began the afternoon with an inspirational message, while Heritage Lodge resident Marion Smith gave a lighthearted look at the disadvantages of aging.

Correction

Please note that it is Elk Point Child Care Services users who will now be making payments at the Community Services office instead of at the Town Office. The Playschool already does make their payments there. Sorry for this misinformation, which was contained in last week's Town Council story.

Two generation ball

Something different for the ball fans this week: Elk Point Midget Girls fastball team will be taking on the members of the former Elk Point Ladies Fastball team on Wednesday evening, June 10 at 6:30 p.m. at the Recreation Park Diamonds. Come on out and cheer for your favorite generation!

Cranberry Creek draw winners

Lucky draw winners at the Grand Opening of Cranberry Creek Ranch and Tree Nursery were Glenn Harms and Orest ASereda, who each won a rose bush, and Chantal Maas, who won a spruce tree. Congratulations!

What's Happening At COMMUNITY SERVICES

Community Services needs you!

Community Services invites individuals with an interest in Family and Community Social Services and Recreation to participate in our volunteer program. Whether you want to learn or to share your talents, we have a position for you! The scope of opportunities and activities is unlimited and you will be matched with a position that best suits your present needs.

A volunteer is needed to coordinate the Welcome Package update. Excellent organizational and communication skills are required. Typing would be an asset. This individual must enjoy meeting the public. Hours are flexible, so if you're interested in becoming involved in the way we welcome newcomers to our community, this is the job for you! Call Terri at 724-3800 for more information.

SENIORS' TRANSPORTATION

Did you know that Community Services provides a seniors' transportation service? This service is available to all seniors in Elk Point who are in need of transportation services. The van runs every Thursday from 1:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. It will transport seniors anywhere within town limits at a cost of $1 per person for the afternoon. However, enough interest must be expressed for the service to continue.

Community Servies also provides transportation for special events. For example, transportation can be provided for elections and events such as Participaction, Volunteer Appreciation Night and other Community Services and Town events.

An additional seniors' service is assisting seniors with completion of forms and letter writing. We also act as an information and referral service for the public in general.

SUMMER PLAY PROGRAMS

Elk Point Community Services' Summer Play Programs will be starting on July 6, 1992 and running to August 14, 1992. There will be two programs, "Club 3 / 4" which will be for three and four year old children, and "Fun In The Sun" which will be for children between the ages of five and twelve years. Club 3 / 4 will run Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:00 to 11:30 and Fun In The Sun will run every weekday afternoon from 1:00 to 3:30.

A wide variety of crafts, stories, songs, rhymes, indoor and outdoor activities, and small and large group games will be included in these programs. These programs will also include field trips and special activities. There will be a light nutritious snack provided for the children each day as well.

Our Summer Play Program is shortened this year due to a reduction in grant assistance from the federal and provincial governments. As a result, we need and encourage any assistance that parents and the public can provide. Parent involvement will ensure that we will be able to continue to provide the best possible programs at an affordable cost. Registration forms are available at the Community Services Centre Office. The fees for these programs are as follows: $25 per child enrolled in Fun In The Sun; $15 per child enrolled in Club 3 /4.

Due to staffing, registration numbers will be restricted, therefore a waiting list may be necessary. Registration numbers will increase in proportion to the amount of volunteer assistance we receive. To ensure placement for your child, please register early. Registration will occur on a first come, first served basis. Payment must accompany the registration.

For more information about the Summer Play Programs please feel free to contact Terri or Lynn at Community Services (724-3800).

Registration deadline is Friday, June 26, 1992.

CATCH A TAN?

Are you thinking about finding a summer job that can be fun and rewarding and still provide opportunities to catch a tan? Do you dream about having a positive influence upon the lives of people in the world around you while earning money? Are you hoping to gain some work experience that will help develop your leadership, teamwork, communication, planning and supervisory skills while having a great time and participating in sports, recreation and cultural activities? Are you thinking about a career in parks, recreation, culture, education or social services? Do you like helping children to learn how to have fun?

If you answered yes to ANY of the questions then you'll want to register now for the 1992 Summer Play Leaders Workshop. This one day workshop is designed to provide you with the basic skills that employers look for when choosing and training their summer play leaders.

You'll learn how to become a skilled leader and how to communicat effectively. You'll be exposed to methods for planning, organizing, implementing, and evaluating arts, culture, recreation and sport programs for both daily activities and for major special events. You'll be taught how to create a safe play environment by reducing liability threats and being prepared to deal with accidents. You'll receive hands-on experience by learning and participating in innovative activities covering active games and sports, passive leisure activities, environmental awareness and outdoor programming activities. All this and an opportunity to meet new friends and network with north eastern Alberta's most active and professional recreation personnel for a mere $35 including lunch and a resource manual.

Invest in your future now! The workshop will be held on Friday, June 26 at the Vermilion Cultural Centre. Registration deadline is June 19, 1992. For more informantion call Community Services (724-3800), Scott (842-7581) or Allan (842-3383).

TIDBITS

It is easy to confuse our daily "busyness" with our daily business. Many of us earn our living in business, but waste much of the rest of our time on "busyness" that profits us little.

Time was not created merely to be consumed in working and worrying, rushing for trains and dashing for appointments. It was intended to be used in the pursuit of happiness. True, we would find it hard to be happy if we did not work and earn enough to live. But beyond that, the aim of all of us should be to both give and get the greatest possible enjoyment for every minute of our lives.

In terms of downright happiness, the returns - per - p minute fromgiving are far greater than the returns from getting.

In Our View

South centre trails

Priviledged once again to take part in a close-up view of a few more of our asphalt trails, I, and some thirty others, have returned to square one after five days of exploring what may be called the heartland of our province. I was fortunate to be included with the North East Alberta Retired Teachers' Association (NEARTA)'s annual bus tour (not that I'm a teacher!) but kindly invited, and so joined the group.

Leaving Elk Point at 9:15 a.m. on Dallaire's bus, we arrived at the Legislative Grounds in Edmonton around noon, where we wandered the gardens and were serenaded by the carillon bells. Thousands of little plants give promise of a sea of color and beauty before summer ends.

A chill breeze made us all glad to go inside when the time came, and here a guided tour showed us the 'public' part of our government meeting place. The gleaming marble gleams no less brightly, after all these many years, and the flags (actually carried by our legions in wars) hang - a bit faded, a bit limp - i overhead and around the circular plant-surrounded pool which decorates the central entry hall.

After a couple of to-prove-we-were-here photos, on the stairs, the group was herded up the steps and regaled with running commentary as we viewed portraits of the many Premiers and Lieutenant Governors who have ruled our province since its beginnings in 1905. On we went, until we found seats in the balcony overlooking the Legislature, which, being Sunday and not in session, was unoccupied. We had time to admire the lighting, decor and seating arrangements of our Alberta governing body, before returning to earth again. The view of the city is marvellous.

Our second point of interest was the Space Sciences Centre, where we were soon ensconced on tilting chairs, lights dimmed and a series of fantastic color designs projected overhead, against a background of stars, whirling endlessly in their endless patterns. The reclining chairs are, as most creations, made for the six-footer, so for many of us, quite uncomfortable. The laser show, colorful and constantly moving, is quite lovely.

Later, in the same Centre, we took a chilling trip to Antarctica, via the tremendous impact of the very-wide-angle Imax Theatre, which almost had us falling into the chilling waters of the South Pole, sliding over ice mountains and entering cavernous ice caves, all from the safety of our seats. Everyone probably ended up glad they didn't live there!

Our overnight hotel was comfortable and quiet, reviving us for another day of explorations. Our reliable bus transported us to the Fort Edmonton Park, down along the river, where an admirable effort has been made to retain a remarkable segment of the past.

Here are the old stores, the soldiers' barracks, blacksmith shops where the horses were shod, the tower of the fort and the tall log palisade walls. Staffed by young persons in authentic period attire, our questions were answered, and guiding offered where requested. Native ladies showed us intricate beadwork, and a prancing team of heavy horses pulled a green wagon, offering rides.

We lunched in an authentic old Jasper Place Hotel, on very modern and tasty food, after which we spent a couple of hours at the Ukrainian Canadian Archives and Museum, opened especially for us on this coolish Monday. Here we wandered among displays of handwork, clothing, tools and utensils, pictures and artwork, all stamped with the look of the Ukraine, and explained by a lovely young fresh-from-the-Ukraine lady.

One couple of our group had a relative graduating at the Jubilee Auditorium that day, so we (on the bus only) accompanied them to and from the ceremony on the University grounds. By mid-afternoon we were all ensconced in our seats and tootling along down Number 2 Highway toward Calgary.

I've never fully realized how very little of the countryside one can see from the seat of a bus, on a freeway. Small towns are avoided and even Red Deer slides by with hardly a stick visible. Bus seats, as most things, are made for giants, and shorter persons see only the back of the seat ahead, and a bit of sky from the side, if windows aren't too dusty or rain-flecked. Someone said there are buses with graduated seatbacks, so the other half of us can get a view - but these I've never encountered. One can still hope?

We met and enjoyed a visit with ex-Elk Pointites, John and Bea Williams, in Calgary, as we supped at the Fabled Table, and later at our hotel, where some of the gang enjoyed a dip in the churning hot pool.

Morning seemed to come early, as we left the warm weather behind and tried to adjust to a much cooler day. First stop was the Calgary Zoo, where we visited the reptile spaces, saw seals, zebras and other unusual species. Later, we were probably all glad to warm up in the Botanical gardens, where we admired the host of lovely flowers, odd plants, and overhead a few tropical birds and butterflies. Heat and sand highlighted the desert area, with towering and spike-laden cacti. Here we lunched and rested.

Outside again, in light rain, some of us found the larger shelter, with large animals, giraffes, elephants (including one baby), hippos and at least one rhinoceros. I regretted not strolling the river bank, where a scene from the prehistoric past loomed, but we had other destinations. Tune in next week for more thrilling disclosures!

Saluting our seniors

Seniors, it's your week! This year, Elk Point Seniors have their beautiful new Recreation Centre to enjoy as they take part in Seniors' Week activities, due to their perseverance and dedicated efforts. This proves that age is not necessarily a barrier to getting things accomplished. Best wishes for a great week to a great group!

Our Past

Early fires in Elk Point

Steve Andrishak

During the pioneer years, the residents of old Elk Point had no fire fighting equipment whatsoever. Whenever a fire broke out and went undetected for even a short period of time, there was no way the fire could be put out. Many people lost their homes or places of business simply because fire fighting equipment was lacking.

During the early years, homes and places of business were fueled by wood and coal. Many times an overheated stovepipe or faulty chimney caused a serious fire.

The method of fighting a fire during the early years was by using a bucket brigade. Water was drawn form a well or dugout, and those fighting the fire would each grab a pail of water and hurl it against the burning building. Often a well or dugout went dry before the fire was put out, and unless another nearby well was available, the building was usually destroyed. During the early years our hamlet had no way of notifying the residents when a fire broke out. Usually one or more people would run through the hamlet and try to arouse as many people as possible. It was difficult to fight a fire under these conditions, especially during the winter months when wells or dugouts were frozen over, making it more difficult to obtain a much needed water supply.

Our early residents knew the hazards of fire, and were very careful with their fires. Elk Point's biggest fire, which was reported in the March 1, 1922 edition of the Edmonton Journal, destroyed the entire block of buildings situated on the street north of our present day Petro Canada Service centre. The buildings destroyed were: Elk Point's community hall, the Canadian Bank of Commerce building, C. J. Markstad's Implement Shop and Ford Agency and Charles Hood's hardware store and post office. The nearby Caskey Hotel was saved mainly by an existing alley and a super effort by the members of the bucket brigade. The Bank of Commerce vault had a considerable amount of money in it, however, because of the intense heat, it was left to cool for about two days. Later when inspected, it was found that the vault was not locked. Apparently whoever was in charge of the bank operations got excited and left the premises when the fire broke out and neglected to lock it.

Another fire that broke out shortly after the big fire of 1922 was the one that destroyed Oran Caskey's garage located in the east portion of our hamlet. In 1928, fire destroyed the United Church, which was located on the lot south of the present Onusko residence. At the time it was used as a church as well as a school.

In the early 1920s another fire destroyed the H. Plante Hotel. It was located in the vicinity of where our present on Main Street. The following buildings were destroyed: William Soldan's garage and implement shop, a blacksmith shop, Bruce MacDonald's Drug Store and Reva Morton's beauty shop.

Still another fire broke out on December 7, 1941. It destroyed the old C. A. Johnson store, which at that time was owned by Andy Miller, as well as the Economy Store which was owned by John Leteplo, both these buildings were situated on the lots that now house the Toronto Dominion Bank. The nearby Pioneer Hotel (the old Caskey Hotel) was saved by the many volunteer firefighters. Had this hotel not been saved, the entire portion of Main Street to the south probably would have been destroyed also.

Numerous homes in old Elk Point were also destroyed by fire over the years.

Although the residents of our hamlet had very little protection from fires because fire equipment was lacking, the many residents in our outlying areas were even worse off than we were. When a fire broke out on a farm, most people were helpless. They didn't have phones at the time and before help could be summoned it was much too late to save any of their buildings.

Protection from fires improved somewhat after Elk Point installed water works during the early 1950s. Fire hydrants were then installed and a fire truck

Ag. Society reports busy year

Elk Point and District Agricultural Society reported on their busiest year ever at last Tuesday's Annual Meeting, which may also have been the best attended ever.

Since this time last year, the Society has built an agricultural arena and a large addition to the A. G. Ross Arena, has hosted a very successful Horse Show, the spectacular RCMP Musical Ride, a very fine Trade Fair and an excellent rodeo, as well as numerous workshops, clinics and other events.

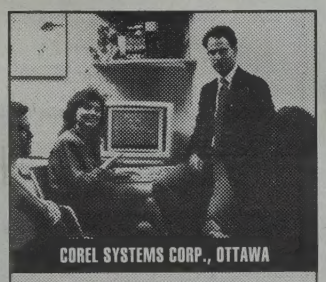
When Canadians work together we can take on the world and win.

To succeed in today's world, Canadians must be able to compete because our jobs directly depend on it. Preparing ourselves through training will help us to compete and secure the prosperity we want for ourselves and our children.

We have to invest in ourselves and be a country that says ... yes we can.



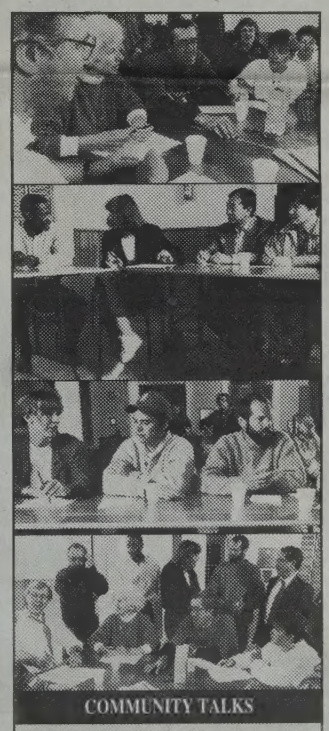
COREL SYSTEMS CORP., OTTAWA

This Ontario company has captured 50% of the world market with CorelDraw, a software graphics program for IBM and compatibles. It exports 90% of its products to Europe and the U.S. and attributes Free Trade to the fact that it can operate so successfully from Canada, using Canadian talent and initiative.

Yes we can. We've got the proof.

Canadians are succeeding every day. Many individual and business successes exist... with real benefits for individuals, the communities they live in and for Canadian industry.

Hundreds of Canadian companies are achieving remarkable international success. They're creating jobs, developing new skills and opportunities for thousands of Canadians and creating markets around the world for Canadian products.



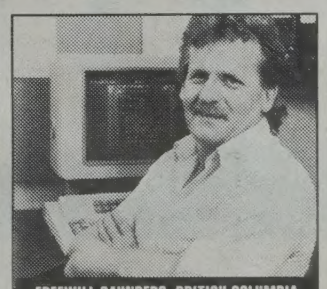
COMMUNITY TALKS

The Prosperity Initiative's Steering Group is developing a consensus-based plan of action to be presented to Canadians in September. Canadians told us that they wanted to participate in developing this plan of action. We listened...

Through a series of "Community Talks", thousands of people in 186 communities across Canada have contributed their ideas. They talked about how to address the challenges and opportunities facing us all in the areas of competitiveness and learning. They talked about how to maintain our standard of living and secure our economic future. They concluded that all of us have to play a part...and the government is listening.

Yes we can. We've got the ability to build on our successes.

We have a history of working in co-operation with others for world-class achievements in peacekeeping, medicine and space exploration. Now, with business, labour, governments, academic and social groups working together, we can achieve prosperity through international competitiveness. But there is one more critical factor: Canada's ultimate potential depends on the commitment of individual Canadians to being the best.



FREEWILL SAUNDERS, BRITISH COLUMBIA

"I had to make a decision to change careers. I chose to go into computer programming and part of my course was on-the-job training at BC Tel where I now work as a programmer analyst. Training really opened up a promising future for me in a fascinating industry!"

Yes we can. We've got the people.

It's time to focus our energies on our most important economic challenge yet ... and prepare ourselves for a more prosperous future.

Yes, we can!

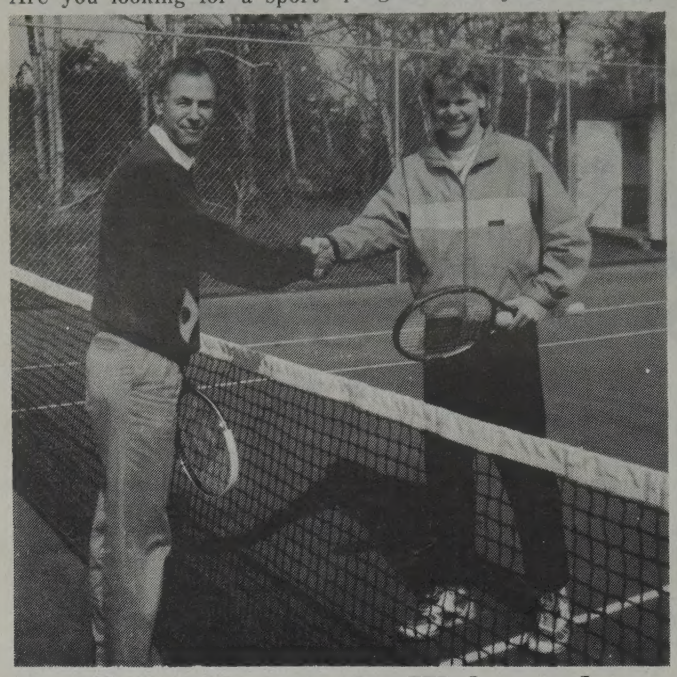
Tennis lessons anyone?

Are you looking for a hobby that can keep you in shape? Are you looking for a sport that is fun, yet easy to learn? Are you looking for a summer program for your children that keeps them active in a fun, success-oriented environment? If you are looking for any one of these things, the Elk Point Tennis Club is for you!



Tennis Instructor Welcomed

Elk Point Tennis Club President Jim Hawkins welcomes the Club's new tennis instructor, Danny Maas, to the Elk Point courts. Both are looking forward to a great summer of tennis, and are eager for more community involvement in the sport.

This summer, the Elk Point Tennis Club is offering group and individual tennis lessons to club members free! There will be lessons for children as young as ten years old, lessons for adults, and every age group in between!

Absolutely NO tennis experience is necessary to join our club and take lessons. Tennis is an easy sport to learn, no matter who you are!

To become a member of our club, purchase a membership at the high school, or from Danny Maas, club instructor. Membership fees are as follows: Student membership, $15, Adult $25, Family $50. Membership fees for 1992 include instruction, use of the club's rackets, and balls.

To receive tennis instruction, you must become a club member.

Here is the schedule for instruction for the month of June:Mondays: 3:30 to 4:30--10 - 12 yrs old; 4:30 to 5:30--13 - 15 yrs.; 6:30 to 7:30--adults. Tuesdays: 3:30 to 4:30--16 - 18 yrs.;Wednesdays: 3:30 to 4:30--10 - 12 yrs.; 4:30 to 5:30--13 - 15 yrs.Thursdays: 3:30 to 4:30--16 - 18 yrs.; 6:30 to 7:30--Adults.

Official instruction will begin on Wednesday, June 10. Fees may be paid at the first lesson or at the High School.

There are many great events planned for the summer, so stay tuned to Tennis News weekly. If you require any additional information, contact Jim Hawkins at 724-3966 (work) or 724-2007 (home) or contact Danny Maas at 724-2552. See you on the court!

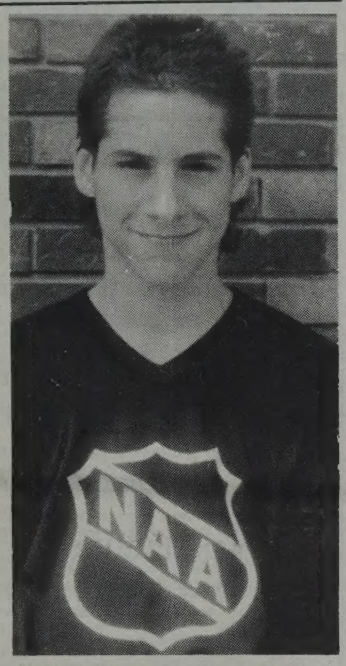
"A" Winners

Under the name WWII, this team from Ashmont cleaned up at the Heinsburg slow pitch tournament on the weekend. The Misfits from Elk Point came in second in the "A" pool.

"B" Winners

The Headhunters from Elk Point wrapped up first place in the"B" pool with a 14 to 9 victory over Mike's machine. Both teams were from Elk Point.

Conway Roscoe named to All Star Hockey Team



All Star Roscoe

And you thought the hockey season was over!

For most of us, it may be, but for Conway Roscoe, the exciting part is just beginning. The peewee level defenceman is among seventeen boys from across the northern half of the province who have been chosen to make up the Northern Alberta All Stars Hockey Team, which will be travelling to the Vancouver Super Series Tournament in July, and later participating in a tournament in Edmonton.

Hockey scouts who had watched the Norcen Peewees in action sent him an invitation to a training camp in Edmonton which started May 3 with 61 boys. Three weekends of intensive hockey and three cuts later, Conway has made the final team, in spite of competition from players on Triple A and Double A teams. Seven years, with good coaching all the way, in the Elk Point Minor Hockey system has given the seventh grader lots of experience, and the 5'9", 130 pound Conway says "size was definitely an advantage. It's real tough after the final round cut."

The team will practice each weekend through July 5, which cuts into study time for final exams and "takes care of any golfing I had plans for," he said. However, the chance to represent his community and northern Alberta in the company of players from Edmonton, Lloydminster, Spruce Grove, Irma, Mirror, Edson, Sherwood Park, Camrose, Red Deer, St. Albert and Winterburn, is well worth it for a young man whose motto is "Winning isn't everything--it's the ONLY thing!"

Awesome home runs at Heinsburg

Some awesome home run hitting led Ashmont's WWII to an easy win at the Heinsburg slowpitch tournament on the weekend.

WWII was undefeated after two days of combat and finished the weekend with a thorough 13 to 1 trouncing of Elk Points' Misfits to win the tournament's A pool with apparent ease.

WWII's amazing hitting power not only won the tournament, it also smashed a sizeable whole in this reporter's windshield (what a team).

Elk Point teams dominated the B pool. The Headhunters came out on top there with a 14 to 9 victory over Mike's Machine, also from Elk Point.

In all, 24 teams took part in the two-day tournament including a few from Edmonton and there was a fraternizing between teams at a dance Saturday night.

"It was a good turn out and a lot of fun," said tournament organizer Parrish Tung.

Countdown to Canada Day

Joe Brunner Canada Day Chairman

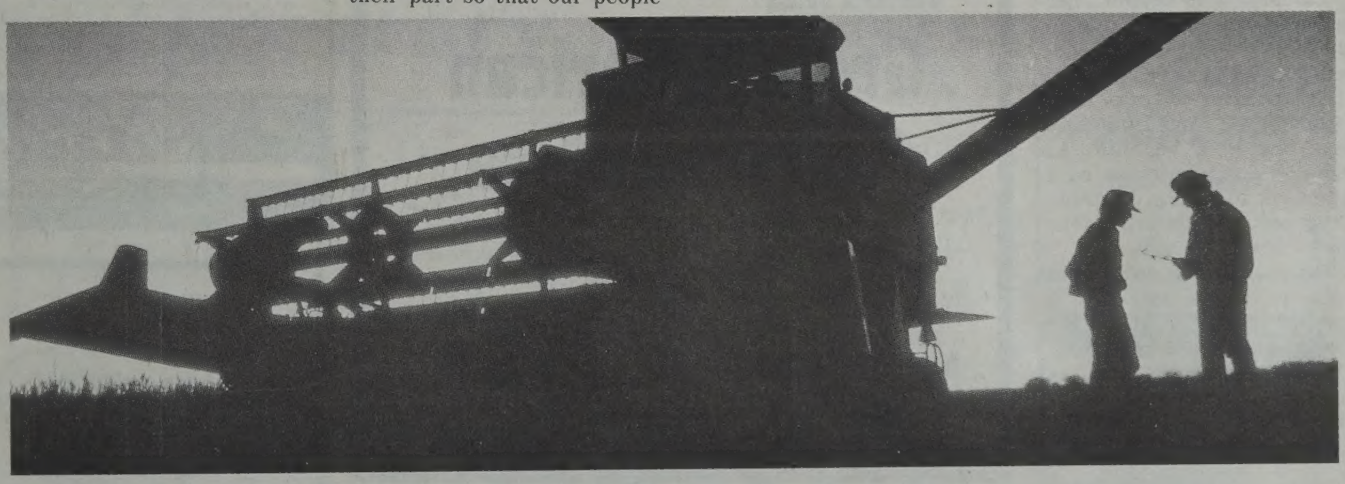
The Canada Day Committee is in its last few weeks of preparation for our Elk Point July 1 activities.

Many clubs, businesses and groups are working hard to do their part so that our people and visitors will have a funfilled, unforgettable five days as Elk Point celebrates Canada 125.

Brochures which list the activities from June 27 to July 1 may be picked up at the Elk Point Review, Bicentennial office and Tourist Information Centre free of charge. Send some to your friends and relatives in other areas and invite them to come back to Elk Point for a whoop-de-doo time.



Annual Hail Insurance for generations of farmers

You're not in the farming business for a quick buck. And neither is the Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance Corporation. That's why generations of Alberta's farmers have trusted us to provide dependable hail insurance coverage since 1938.

When you're looking for reliable hail protection, look to the Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance Corporation, and remember the following great benefits:

- A 5% cash discount when you pay the full premium in cash at the time of application.
- A 5% credit, based on actual cash paid, when you pay part of the premium in cash at time of application.
- Premium refunds paid in years of favourable experience to policy holders who have paid their premiums promptly.
- Interest charges on overdue accounts begin October 1, 1992 for the 1992-93 crop year.
- Hail insurance claims paid under the Hail Insurance program WILL NOT be considered as part of farm revenue if you are participating in the Revenue Protection Plan offered by Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance Corporation.

Fidler descendant to oversee interpretive centre

Six generations and two hundred years ago, Louise Crane's ancestor came to a site on the bluffs overlooking the North Saskatchewan River and supervised the cutting of trees, installation of a palisade and construction of buildings as Fort George became the North West Company's newest post in the furrich western reaches of Canada.

Last week, Peter Fidler's great-great-great-great-granddaughter arrived at the same site, to take the post of Supervisor of Visitor Services at the Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre.

Louise Crane was a Calgary resident who was working at the Glenbow Museum as a docent, interpreting the artifacts and displays for museum visitors, and who was also a student in Dr. Walter Jameson's Historic Rsource Management program at the University of Calgary. Her neighbor heard an interview with Bicentennial Coordinator Billie Milholland on Peter Gzowski's CBC Radio show, regarding the upcoming reunion of Peter Fidler's descendants, which will be part of the August Bicentennial celebrations, and jotted down the telephone number, passing along the information to Ms Crane. When Ms Crane phoned Bicentennial Headquarters, she not only found out about the reunion, she discovered that there was a job opening for a supervisor at the new interpretive centre.

Ms Crane has a husband and two teenage children back in Calgary, who support her choice in applying for a position which will put her education and experience to work, and also "will offer me a lot of opportunities I wouldn't have had in a big site. At Glenbow, I only interpreted, I didn't get to do any programming or public relations work," Ms Crane said.

The position not only fits in with her college course, it is part of it, as a two year internship under which she is employed by the U. of C. to get hands-on training in her field of study. Her first year at the site, Ms Crane said, will be spent "getting things started. Next year we will see the fruits of our labors."

Ms Crane also has fifteen years of experience in the field of tourism, and is "out to dispel the belief held by many pure historians that tourism is a four letter word. There is no reason that you can't have a historically accurate site [that will be a major tourist attraction]."

She will be assisted at the site this summer by five interpreters: Arlene Davies, Lisa Lukevich, Brenda Poitras, Bonnie Rae and David Hellquist. The signs are now up to point the way, so make sure you head on out to Fort George - Buckingham House and say hello to Louise Crane and her crew, who are ready to relate to visitors the exciting and colorful history of the site her determined ancestor established two centuries ago.

New Face At The Forts

Louise Crane is the new Director of Visitor Services at the Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre, but her ancestral roots go deep in this land, as a descendant of fort builder Peter Fidler's son George.

WHAT'S NEWS AT THE LIBRARY?

The Elk Point Library is really starting to feel the benefits of being a part of the Northern Lights Library System. As part of the start-up benefits of the System, the library has received a computer and a fax machine. All our books will be entered into the computer data base nd the Systems office will have this record, They will then be able to direct books from one library to another when they have a request. The word processing function is very much appreciated. A workshop on this software was held in the library last week. Reference books bought with a special start-up benefit of the System have also been received, ready to be put on the shelves. These shelf-ready books save the time and the material of processing them in our own library.

New Books

Jean Pare brings the world to your dinner table with the sixteenth title in the best-selling Company's Coming cookbook series. Dinners Of The World is the result of years of experience gained as a professional caterer and avid world traveller. Embark upon a journey with Jean Pare as you explore new tastes from menus representing nine different countries in this mouth watering cookbook.

The Parent's Handbook is a lively, easy-to-read guide that encourages mutual respect between parent and child, co-operation, responsibility and self-reliance.

Four new books in the children's area are: Good News by Barbar Bremmer; Could It Be? by Joanne Oppenheim; Bears In Pairsby Niki Yektai and My Ready To Read Stories by June Woodman. Parents, bring your children to the library and take home these easy to read books.

For our patrons we have a new music cassette, Heart by Brigade.

We have just purchased two children's video cassettes. They are I Love To Sing, this is one of Walt Disney's Singalong Songs video series, and The Berenstain Bears And The Truth by Stan and Jan Berenstain.

For Your Reference

Northern Lights Library System Director Heather West (left) presents Elk Point Librarian Doreen Mayner with a shipment of reference books which are part of the benefits of belonging to the NLLS. The books are pre-processed, and ready to put on the shelves, saving the library staff a considerable amount of time in making this information available to patrons.

Elk Point 4-H beef show highlights

The Herdsman Class put all three of Robyn Danyluk's Charolais in the spotlight again, as they won the Riverside Black Angus Farms trophy for first place. Tim Havener was second with his Simmental heifer, two year old cow and calf, for the L7R Limousin trophy.

Rate of Gain and Project Book trophy winners will be determined later.

The afternoon was a big success, with plenty of room for stalls, show ring and spectators in the Show Barn, plus newly installed wash racks to help each animal look its best. A fine lunch was served all afternoon, thanks to Jack and Steffi Skulski and the Alberta Wheat Pool staff.

Ringmaster for the show was Helen Havener, while Jim Orr was Master of Ceremonies. Albert Naber is the Overall Leader of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club, with Linda Piotrowski as Assistant Overall Leader, Lee Wruth as the Steer Project Leader and Chris Havener as the Female Project Leader. Lorraine Danyluk is the Club Photographer.

Elk Point 4-H Multi Club invites you to join them again next Saturday, when they are proud to host the District 4-H Heifer Show at 1:00 p.m. in the Show Barn.

Champions Times Three

Robyn Danyluk was the proudest young lady in Elk Point last Sunday, when her yearling heifer and cow-calf pair swept up Grand Championships in both classes, Supreme and Reserve Supreme Female trophies, and first place in Herdsman Class. Michael Yuschyshyn (kneeling) presents the Riverside Black Angus Farms trophy. Shane Smith and Chris Havener are assisting with showing the trio, while at far right is judge Bill Creech.

Reserve Champions

Reserve Champion Steer

First Year 4-Her Jason Pankiw didn't take long to learn the ways of winning. His big red steer was placed second by judge Bill Creech (centre) and received the Elk Point Butchers and Packers Reserve Champion Steer trophy from Larry Filewich (right).

Grooming Winners

Reserve Yearling

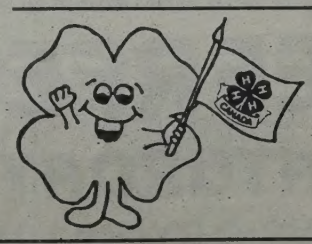
Top Senior Showman

Millie Orr presents the Clayton Orr Memorial Halter to Richard Piotrowski, winner of the Senior Showmanship. Robyn Danyluk received the Junior award.



Congratulations on a great Acheivement Day!
